

Autism

A new technology based perspective by James D. Honeycutt, PhD

Cases of Autism and Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) have risen sharply in recent years with a multitude of causal agents being blamed for this occurrence, from immunization made with mercury preservatives to environmental pollutants. While vaccinations and pollutants may contribute to ASD, there are other factors now coming to light that must be examined.

Our bodies are energy systems with every atom, cell, and organ vibrating at frequencies in the audible range, creating a symphony of harmonic rhythms when in tune. Any disorder or dis-ease shifts our vibrations from health-promoting to out-of-tune frequencies. Every cell in our body has a small voltage potential and all biological activities involve the movement of ions, charged atoms, between and within our cells. Frequency and voltage are inseparably connected as are magnetism and electricity.

From a holistic perspective we may view ourselves as mind (psychological), body (physiological) and spirit (etherealogical). When our body is healthy our cellular voltage is higher and the resultant frequencies are likewise higher. Spirit is a higher form of the physical and thus vibrates at a higher frequency. When our mind is clear it is also operating at higher frequencies as can be seen in EEG waveforms. When all three aspects of ourselves; mind, body and spirit are integrated and functioning properly there is unity, resulting in a person being more ‘present’ and ‘aware’.

Persons on the Autism Spectrum have unique gifts and abilities, and often these set them apart from others and results in Autism being considered a Disorder or Disease. In ASD there is an apparent disunity or disconnect between two or more of these aspects due to an imbalance. For children with ASD it is as though their spirit, which enters the body at birth, is unable or unwilling to integrate fully with the physical form. Whether this is due to the physical body not being properly prepared or not being pollutant free, or to the spirit resonating at too high of a frequency to match the otherwise healthy and clear physical form, is unknown.

Vibrational Energy Medicine is applied to ASD in three unique ways. First, is to restore physical health by increasing the potential, or voltage, in our cells and raising the frequency of the body back to its natural state of healthiness. Secondly, blended vibrational energies of light can be used to resonate with the ethereal form to help it integrate more fully into the physical. Third, electromagnetic energies entrain the mind to raise the frequency of the psychological form. When two or more persons are within the same field of influence it brings them in harmony with each other. This can help families communicate non-verbally by harmonizing the frequencies of mind, body and spirit of the entire family.

NuTesla recognizes the uniqueness of persons with ASD and the special gifts they bring to a family and community. NuTesla invented Rhythmedics energy medicine instruments in its mission to help everyone achieve his or her full potential.

Accepting that we are multidimensional beings means we are being affected on many different levels. Environmental pollutants means much more than DDT and oil spills, it must include electromagnetic radiation (EMR) as well.

Dr. Franz Halberg, the father of chronobiology, who coined the term ‘Circadian Rhythm’ in the 1950’s discovered how manmade EMR could interfere with our bodies’ delicate timing mechanisms, our internal clock. He further discovered that our bodies only produce the proteins needed for repair and growth at the beginning of each ultradian cycle, the naturally occurring rhythms within our daily cycle. If you are not getting a good night’s sleep by transitioning through each stage of sleep your body simply cannot protect and heal itself. Our bodies also experience daytime ultradian rhythms, and living in today’s wireless world of electronics means we spend our waking hours in a sea of disrupting EMR energies. While EMR may not cause ASD, it can interfere with our body’s abilities to heal and defend itself, and disintegrate the unity of mind, body and spirit.

All Rhythmedics instruments use Bio-Pulses to create a protective field to interrupt EMR and restore the natural rhythms to our internal clock. Rhythmedics Bio-Pulses are derived from a Fibonacci frequency quartz crystal to ensure all resulting frequencies are pure. Bio-Pulses resonate with our physical body, occurring in the audible range of frequencies, yet are imperceptible as they are electrically generated pulses of magnetic flux. Our minds are sensitive to pulsing magnetic flux resulting in an entrainment where our brainwaves follow the Bio-Pulse frequencies.

In order to resonate the ethereal aspects of ourselves, or our spirit body, it is necessary to use higher frequencies. Since our spirit body is referred to as our light body NuTesla uses near coherent light rather than radio frequencies as traditional equipment does. The four elemental primary colors of red, yellow, green and blue are pulsed on and off in opposing pairs at frequencies still in the audible range and above the perceptible flicker point of our eyes. This is not only safer than radio waves, but is more effective for resonating our higher self. The Tesla Jewels were the result of this effort.

Working with Suzy Miller, creator of the Awesomism Certification Process, and other professionals who work with ASD, a unique program was created to assist in helping integrate mind, body and spirit for ASD individuals. The following diagram is the frequency profile for this program titled “Awesomism Integration Into the Heart”. The 47 minute program uses the ancient Solfeggio notes correlating to the frequencies of the Chakras, or energy centers of the body. The intent of the program is to begin with higher frequencies that will resonate with the higher self as it has been observed by ASD professionals that the children are generally in a higher state of awareness. The frequencies then step lower and lower helping to bring the person into their heart center. The frequencies then oscillate above and below this point to allow the person to experience a new level of integration without committing them to stay in the lower chakras. Then the program ascends back to the higher frequency where it began to allow the person to be released after 30 minutes of run time and not feel constrained by these lower frequencies. The program can be terminated at that point and restarted for another session. Ultimately the person should be able to run the entire program and after returning to the higher starting point, allow themselves to be carried to the lower frequencies of the all the Chakras from Crown to Root and even to the lower grounding frequencies of the entire physical form.

NuTesla and Awesomism are interested in receiving feedback from ASD professionals using this program. It is a manageable matter to create new and unique programs which can be uploaded by the user via a USB connection.
